DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 2-10, 12, 14-20 and 24-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
2. The claims contain improper Markush language. When the last conjunction is "and" proper Markush language is "selected from the group consisting of". "Selected from the group comprising" and "at least one of" are improper.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-7, 9, 11-18, 20, 22 and 24-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ryang et al. 5,962,608.
5. Claims 1-22 and the Examples disclose all of the contents of applicants' claims with the exception of the flame retardant, the blowing agent and the additives. However, in column 13, lines 58-65, the reference discloses PVC resin containing foaming agents, wetting agents, flame-retardants and thickening agents. Applicants' claims are not novel.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 1-22 and 24-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ryang et al. 5,962,608, in view of Valia et al. 3,941,908 or Moore et al. 4,098,748.

9. Ryang et al. has been discussed already. The order of addition is obvious in the absence of unexpected results. Valia et al. teach a clear (transparent) flame retardant composition comprising PVC and phosphate plasticizers in claim 1. Moore et al. recite flame resistant PVC comprising phosphate esters and halogenated paraffins in claim 1. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to use the flame retardants in both clear and non-clear PVC compounds, since halogenated and phosphorus containing flame retardant plasticizers are customarily used in flexible PVC.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claim 23 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
